

Have YOU got expensive taste? Try a taco stuffed with Kobe beef, lobster, caviar and gold leaf... for $25,000

- The Grand Velas Los Cabos resort in Mexico is serving up a very expensive taco
- The tortilla dish is stuffed with pricey Kobe beef, caviar, lobster and gold leaf
- Diners will be served a bank-busting bill of £20,453 ($25,000) for the dish

By SADIE WHITELOCKS FOR MAILONLINE

PUBLISHED: 12:34, 3 March 2017 | UPDATED: 16:24, 3 March 2017

Tacos are usually served up as a cheap, flavoursome treat.

But one hotel in Mexico has given the humble tortilla dish a top dollar makeover.

The Grand Velas Los Cabos' costly creation comes stuffed with pricey Kobe beef, caviar and lashings of gold leaf, taking the price tag up to a stomach-churning £20,453 ($25,000).

© Grand Velas Los Cabos

 +4

A moment on the lips... The Grand Velas Los Cabos resort in Mexico is serving up a very expensive taco - the tortilla dish is stuffed with pricey Kobe beef, caviar, lobster and gold leaf

Other decadent ingredients include chunks of lobster and black truffle-infused brie cheese.

Then a salsa infused with tequila and the rare civet coffee, which is crafted from part-digested coffee cherries eaten by wild civet cats, is added to the mix.

SHARE THIS ARTICLE

RELATED ARTICLES

Now THAT'S the height of bravery! Terrifying footage shows...

Africa's new Riviera: Seven special places to stay on...

Mexican chef Juan Licerio Alcalá masterminded the lavish dessert.

Explaining the inspiration behind his bank-busting treat, Mr Alcalá said: 'Our ultimate goal at Grand Velas Los Cabos is to break the mould of expected, traditional cuisine and go outside of the box for our well-travelled guests.'

Diners will be served a bank-busting bill of £20,453 ($25,000) for the dish which has a salsa infused with tequila and the rare civet coffee, which is crafted from part-digested coffee cherries eaten by wild civet cats

For those with expensive taste, the Grand Velas Los Cabos' top dollar taco is currently being served up at its Frida restaurant

The culinary-whizz says that there are more 'exciting experiences' in the pipeline for the hotel including a private jet-hopping wine tour for millionaires.

For those with expensive taste, the Grand Velas Los Cabos' top dollar taco is currently being served up at its Frida restaurant.

Rates at the 304-suite hotel start from £613 ($750) per night based on double occupancy.